as Teachers on the Rise for March

AMARILLO, Texas — The United Family and Mrs Baird's Bread® announced the March winners of the fourteenth annual Teachers On The Rise program. Since the program's launch, nominations have poured in from students and families across the High Plains, highlighting how teachers go above and beyond the call of duty and deserve special recognition.

Congratulations to our winners from March: Katherine Stokes of Woodlands Elementary School (Amarillo ISD), Brandi Mahler of Fort Elliott Junior High (Fort Elliott Consolidated ISD), and Melissa Ramirez of Amarillo High School (Amarillo ISD).

"Our teachers go above and beyond every single day, and it feels great to shine a spotlight on their hard work," said Abie Rampy, director of public relations for The United Family. "This program is one of our favorite ways to celebrate the heart of our communities, and we can't wait to see the amazing educators who will be honored in the last few weeks of the school year."

"With more than 800 nominations this school year, we are hearing about great accounts of outstanding educators in Panhandle classrooms," said Shane Sumrow, the program's director. "We encourage students and families to continue sending in nominations all school year. There is still time to submit a nomination for your favorite teacher this spring."

Winning teachers receive a $100 United Supermarkets gift card, a $100 Amazon gift card from Horse Creek Boutique in Spearman for classroom supplies, a $25 gift card to Tyler's Barbecue in Amarillo, and a gift basket full of Mrs Baird's goodies.
