United Supermarkets, Folds of Honor, and Budweiser partner again to raise money for scholarships

LUBBOCK, Texas — United Supermarkets, Folds of Honor, and Budweiser are teaming up once again to help raise scholarship money for the family members of fallen or disabled military and first responders. From now until Labor Day, guests can help the cause by purchasing limited edition cases of Budweiser from any United Family location in Texas and New Mexico.

Since 2007, Folds of Honor has been dedicated to the mission of providing life-changing scholarships to the spouses and children of America's fallen or disabled military. And now, their mission expands to the families of America's first responders. Over the years, Folds of Honor has awarded nearly 62,000 educational scholarships since their founding.

"We are so proud to work with Budweiser to support an incredible organization like Folds of Honor," said Sidney Hopper, president of The United Family. "The work Folds of Honor does for the families of our disabled and fallen veterans and first responders is truly inspiring. We hope this promotion with Budweiser will make a positive impact on many."
