The United Family donates $75,000 to San Angelo Area Foundation for flood relief efforts

SAN ANGELO, Texas — On Tuesday, The United Family presented the San Angelo Area Foundation with a donation of $75,000 for flood relief efforts across the community.

In July, The United Family launched a donate-at-the-register fundraising campaign following the devastating flooding in Central Texas. In addition to launching the campaign, the company made a lead gift of $10,000 to kick off the effort. The campaign ran in all 99 United Family locations across Texas and New Mexico, including all United Supermarkets, Market Streets, Amigos, and Albertsons Markets.

“We are incredibly grateful to our guests for their generosity and willingness to step up and help Texans impacted by these horrific storms,” said Kylon Atteberry, store director for the Market Street in San Angelo. “I’m also thankful for organizations like the San Angelo Area Foundation, who are using donated funds to get relief to those who need it. We’re proud to support them and our community.”

The San Angelo Area Foundation was established in 2002 with the mission of improving the quality of life in the San Angelo community. Since its inception, the foundation has awarded over $175 million in grants, supporting a wide array of causes in San Angelo and the surrounding area.

“We are grateful for the heartfelt support as our community continues to recover from the recent floods,” said Matt Lewis, CEO for the San Angelo Area Foundation. “The generosity of others is a true reflection of the compassion that exists, and while we know the road ahead will be long, these gifts inspire hope for those who have been impacted.”
